National Hosts for 2025

NATIONAL PARTNERS:

We invite the international private sector, Ministries, National Oil Companies, and Regulators to come together in Accra as honored guests of the Government of Ghana. This is a unique opportunity to unite under a shared purpose: to shape the future of Africa's energy landscape and create lasting partnerships that drive prosperity across the continent.

We believe that only through collaboration and industry unity can we unlock the full potential of our natural resources, secure sustainable growth, and build an energy-secure future.

*Join us in Accra to be part of this transformative journey.

Executive Summary

Prof. Emmanuel Ibe Kachikwu
Chairman of AOWEnergy
Former Minister of State, Petroleum, Federal Republic of Nigeria and Former Chairman of the OPEC Conference

The AOWEnergy Summit calls on the industry to unite for the advancement of the African continent and to advocate for the responsible development of natural resources for the benefit of Africa and its partners. Our commitment is to make this the most significant energy event on Africa's oil, gas, and energy calendar to advance exploration and production across the region.

Under African leadership, we will position the continent at the centre of global energy discussions, fostering collaborations that bring mutual benefits to Africa and its international partners.

Our vision is to use this platform to drive impactful change, attract investment, and ensure that Africa's energy sector thrives in the evolving global landscape. Together we will champion this mission, providing a platform that secures a bright and prosperous future for Africa's energy sector and beyond.

Professor Emmanuel Kachikwu
Chairman of the Event

Mr. Paul Sinclair
CEO, Africa Oil week
Founder of Sankofa Events

Africa Oil Week advocates and supports upstream development, believing that our continent should and will harness its natural resources for socio-economic progress. Our mission is to support and accelerate the growth of companies operating in the African oil, gas, and energy sector, while bringing economic development to our continent through foreign capital flows. We are proud of our industry, proud of the AOW community, and look forward to revitalizing the spirit that has underpinned AOW for the past three decades.

We aim to achieve this by fostering progressive dialogue that drives upstream activity, inclusive planning of our conference with industry leaders, and bringing AOW back to its core values of serving our unique and dedicated network. We are committed to returning to the essence of AOW from its earliest days, focusing on networking, deal-making, and giving our 30-year-old community a place to engage, discuss, and develop deal flow in the energy sector.

Mr. Paul Sinclair
CEO, Sankofa Events
& AOW Energy

Welcome Message

The Government of Ghana is proud to support and host AOWEnergy 2025. Under the African leadership of Sankofa Events, we are committed to ensuring its success as a truly Pan-African summit. AOWEnergy 2025 will bring global leaders, private sector players, and governments from across the continent to Accra to engage in discussions vital to Africa's energy future. The Ghanaian government is fully dedicated to welcoming our international partners to this prestigious event and ensuring representation from all corners of the continent.

Hon. Minister John Jinapor
Minister of Energy & Green Transition

Mr. Kwame Ntow Amoah

CEO, Ghana National Petroleum Corporation

GNPC is proud to be associated with AOWEnergy 2025 in Accra. This conference will serve as a crucial platform for exchanging ideas on the technical, environmental, and business challenges and opportunities in oil and gas exploration and production across Africa. Countries from the region will have the opportunity to showcase the potential of their energy sectors, making this an essential event for governments and private sector players alike.

AOWEnergy will provide a unique networking environment where attendees can connect with industry experts and decision-makers to discuss the future of the sector. GNPC is committed to promoting this important conference across the many platforms and events we engage with, ensuring that AOWEnergy 2025 is a landmark event for all participants.

Akwaaba! We look forward to hosting you in Accra.

Ms. Victoria Emeafa Hardcastle
CEO, Ghana Petroleum Commission

It is with immense pride that we welcome AOWEnergy to Accra in 2025. As the Petroleum Commission of Ghana, we are fully committed to making this the premier Pan-African oil, gas, and energy event in Africa. Accra will become the hub for deal-making, offering unparalleled opportunities for operators, investors, and government officials to unite under one roof.

Whether your business is looking to explore opportunities with governments across the continent or engage with private sector decision-makers, AOWEnergy in Accra will be the platform to shape the future of energy in Africa. As proud partners of this event, the Ghana Petroleum Commission will spare no effort to ensure its success. We are excited to host the international energy community and assure you that Accra will provide the perfect environment for impactful discussions and partnerships.

Mr. Godwin Kudzo Tameklo Hamid
CEO, National Petroleum Authority (NPA)

It is with immense pride and anticipation that I welcome you all to Africa Oil Week here in Ghana. As the CEO of the National Petroleum Authority, I am confident that this event will mark a significant milestone for our continent—one that opens crucial investment pathways for Africa's prosperity. This is our moment to unite, collaborate, and showcase the incredible potential of our natural resources, driving sustainable development and economic growth for all our people.

Let Africa Oil Week in Ghana be a resounding success, inspiring the investments and partnerships that will lead our continent into a brighter future. We look forward to seeing you in Accra, where we will together pave the way for Africa's energy transformation.
